Statement:

A non-profit Board and its members must not only behave ethically and in the best interest of the Society and its members in all Society-related matters, but must also be seen to do so. The following policy is designed to guide members in dealing appropriately with potential conflict of interest situations and avoiding the perception of conflicts of interest. Avoiding or reporting conflicts of interest is one of the fiduciary responsibilities of members of a Board.

Policy:

For the purpose of this policy, the following definition of conflict of interest is applied:

Conflict of Interest - is any situation where financial or other personal interests may influence the person's judgment or actions in ways that are not consistent with the best interests of the Society and those we serve.

"Personal interests" refers, in all cases below, to benefits to the person as well as to the person's immediate family or the spouse's immediate family.

Conflicts of interest can take many forms, including;

- using one's position or standing to seek special consideration (financial or otherwise) from the Society for personal interests;
- using material or information from the Society, without appropriate approval, to the benefit of a person or organization who would be considered to be in competition with the Society in terms of funding, transactions or public awareness;
- having access to information that provides an advantage over others

Procedures:

Board, Executive and Committee Members and Employees:

1. Each Board member and all Committee members will sign a Declaration of Interest form, listing the areas in which they are aware of a potential conflict of interest and agreeing to abide by the Conflict of Interest policy. This information will be brought to Board annually and as appropriate.
2. If a Board or Committee member believes they might be in a conflict of interest relative to a matter being considered by the Board or a committee, they must, at the first opportunity:
 - report the potential conflict of interest at an open Board /Committee meeting;
 - make a full and honest disclosure;
 - be very specific regarding the form of the interest, including the benefit that would be received;
 - abstain from any discussion on that issue at Board / Committee;
 - refrain from voting on the matter;
 - where the key issue relates to the potential inappropriate use of information at a Board / Committee meeting, the member or the Board/ Committee may determine it would be appropriate for the member to leave the room during deliberations and/or voting on the matter of concern;
 - ensure that the report and details of the conflict of interest are adequately captured in the minutes and the fact that the member abstained from discussion or left the room, shall be duly noted.
3. Where the Executive Director becomes aware of a potential conflict of interest involving the Board or Committee members, they will bring it to the attention of the President forthwith. The matter will be brought to the Board of Directors at the earliest opportunity.

Where the potential conflict of interest arises from personal interests related to possible employment or a contract, the Board will ensure the following:

- The declaration is duly reported and recorded, as above;
- A fair, reasonable, and transparent tendering system is used to determine to whom the contract or position will be awarded.

Where a staff member believes they may be in a conflict of interest, they will, at the first opportunity, report their concern to the Executive Director who will report the matter to President. The subsequent decision of the President, Executive Committee or Board will be provided to the Executive Director in writing at the earliest opportunity.

Conference Members Receiving Assistance:

A member may not receive any form of financial assistance while a member of the Society. If a member requires and wishes to request assistance:

- a) they must resign from membership in the Society;
- b) they may not apply to re-instate their membership earlier than three months after assistance has last been received.

Note: Re-screening is not required if the person applies to re-instate their membership within one year of their resignation.

Members of the Society who have held Executive positions at the Conference, Particular Council or Board level may not receive assistance from the Society until a minimum of two years have passed after they resign.

A person may not apply for membership in the Society while they are receiving assistance from the Society. If a client wishes to become a member they may not apply for membership until at least three months after they have last received assistance from the Society.
